NEW CHARACTER UNLOCKED

PYO Makes Her Live-Stream Debut on TTG.TV

Exciting news for The Trading Gallery community! PYO made her much-anticipated live-stream debut, co-hosted by Anthony, on TTG.TV via YouTube. This special event marked the beginning of an exciting new chapter for us, and for those who missed it, the VOD is still available for viewing.

The live stream was a fantastic opportunity for viewers to learn more about PYO and Anthony, as they shared insights into upcoming projects, personal likes and dislikes, and engaged with the audience. The interactive session allowed fans and supporters to connect with them in real-time, making for an engaging and memorable experience. If you haven't watched it yet, be sure to check out the VOD on TTG.TV and stay tuned for more exciting content from The Trading Gallery!

MESSAGE FROM PYO

Hey hey! I'm Pyo, just a girl who really loves editing pics, yapping non-stop, and taking pretty photos whenever I get the chance. I do cosplay for fun (mostly when I feel like it or when the character's too cute to resist), and if it involves yoghurt.... trust me, I'm in. Drinks, snacks, desserts, anything. Yogurt supremacy!

One of my dreams is to create and sell my own little photo editing magazine one day—something full of artsy shots, cozy vibes, and personal touches. I even plan to make it interactive with animated AR/ QR functions, so the visuals can literally come to life when you scan it. How cool would that be?

Right now, I'm also researching trading card games! I'm still learning the ropes, but I think it's gonna be super fun. I just hope one day it'll be something entertaining for you guys to watch me play or explore together. I also love places with kind and friendly people. Canada and New Zealand are top of my list.

Another random dream of mine? I wanna learn gymnastics one day. I think it'd be fun to move around with grace (or at least try to). Baby steps lah, one thing at a time! Lately, I've been stepping out of my comfort zone more and more. From someone who didn't even dare to make eye contact or take selfies, to slowly starting to post pictures of myself, open up my Instagram to the public, dive into cosplay, and now—live streaming. It's all still super new to me, and yeah, live streaming feels kinda foreign... but let's try it together, okay?

One thing I'm really trying to overcome right now is my fear of making random reels. I don't even know why I have this weird phobia over doing something so small, but I want to get over it. So if you're here watching and supporting, thank you so much. I'll do my best to grow, create, and have fun with you all. Let's take it one step at a time!

And lastly, I truly hope all of you are taking good care of yourselves. Try your best to live through the hardships, no matter how hard it gets, you'll pull through eventually, and you'll win. I believe in you.

INNISTRAD COLLECTORS, WHY WE LOVE IT.

Magic: The Gathering has delivered some iconic sets over the years, but Innistrad holds a special place in the hearts of collectors and players alike. Gothic horror vibes, powerful cards, and jaw-dropping artwork—what's not to love?

Whether you're sleeving up for casual play or hunting for the next showpiece card for your binder, Innistrad sets have always delivered. But let's break down why Innistrad Collectors Editions, in particular, are something truly special.

1. A Gothic Masterpiece in Card Form

From the very beginning, Innistrad set itself apart with its dark, moody themes inspired by classic horror. Werewolves, vampires, spirits, and zombies—each card feels like it was pulled from a twisted fairytale or haunted novel.

The Collector Boosters take this aesthetic to the next level. Showcase frames, extended art, and foil treatments highlight the set's signature look in ways that standard cards just can't. The attention to visual detail in Collector Boosters turns each pull into a little piece of art.

2. The Return of Fan-Favorite Mechanics

Innistrad brought back mechanics we loved—and seeing them in Collector versions makes it even sweeter. Flashback, Disturb, Daybound/Nightbound, and Exploit returned in stylish fashion, giving new life to familiar strategies.

The Collector Boosters often come packed with premium versions of these cards, including borderless or extended variants of format staples and commander bombs. It's the kind of stuff that makes a collector need just one more pack.

3. The Monsters We Love (and Love to Fear)

Let's talk creatures. The monsters of Innistrad aren't just flavorful—they're playable. Cards like:

- Toxrill, the Corrosive
- The Meathook Massacre
- Arlinn, the Moon's Fury
- Sigarda, Champion of Light

These aren't just collector darlings—they're format-defining cards. Pulling one in foil-etched or showcase treatment? That's a moment. Collector Boosters give fans a chance to grab these powerful cards in their most beautiful form.

4. Legendary Lands and Beautiful Basics

Innistrad Collector Boosters are also known for their Full-Art Basic Lands, which are among the most atmospheric in the game. Foggy forests, crumbling ruins, blood-soaked swamps—it's Magic at its most immersive.

Throw in powerful lands like Deserted Beach and Shipwreck Marsh, and you've got packs that are as mechanically strong as they are visually compelling.

5. Great Value, Great Thrill

Let's be honest—part of the fun of Collector Boosters is the thrill of the pull. With multiple rares or mythics per pack and the chance at showcase foils, etched foils, and borderless cards, each opening is a mini-event.

Even better? Innistrad Collector sets have held strong long-term value. Whether you're into flipping singles or building a high-end Commander deck, these boosters punch above their weight.

6. A Vibe That Lasts

Ultimately, what sets Innistrad apart is its vibe. It's Magic storytelling at its best—dripping with lore, wrapped in shadow, and absolutely dripping with style. For many of us, Innistrad isn't just a set. It's a mood.

Final Thoughts

If you're a Magic fan with a love for premium cards and a dark fantasy aesthetic, Innistrad Collector Boosters are hard to beat. From value-packed pulls to frame-worthy artwork, they check every box.

So yeah... that's why we love Innistrad Collectors. And if you haven't cracked one yet—maybe it's time you did.

THE HUSTLE VOLLEY BALL CLUB

Bringing the Hustle to Okinawa

At The Trading Gallery (TTG), we've always believed that communities thrive when passions collide—and there's no better example than our growing relationship with Hustle Volleyball Club. What started as a simple idea has turned into something bigger: a unique blend of athletic grit and trading card culture that's brought new energy to both the volleyball court and the local TCG scene.

Supporting Hustle On and Off the Court

Merging Two Cultures

At first glance, volleyball and trading cards might feel like two separate worlds—but when you look closer, the connection is obvious: teamwork, strategy, and passion.

Athletes from Hustle have shown us just how deeply the TCG hobby runs in the volleyball community. Whether it's Yu-Gi-Oh!, Pokémon, or Weiss Schwarz, many players grew up collecting, battling, and trading. Now, we're helping create a space where they can express both sides of who they are—on the court and at the table.

We've even seen friendly rivalries form outside of practice, with TCG matches adding a new layer to Hustle's community vibe. It's about building bonds through shared interests—and having a ton of fun while doing it.

What's Next?

As we continue our partnership with Hustle Volleyball Club, our goal is to keep bridging the gap between athletic excellence and hobby culture. More collabs. More cards. More crossover events. We're exploring limited-edition merch, volleyball-themed card accessories, and even co-branded TCG events just for Hustle players.

At TTG, we don't just support the game—we support the people behind it. And seeing the Hustle athletes bring that same energy and dedication from the court to the trading card world? That's exactly the kind of synergy we live for.

To the Hustle team and community: thanks for letting us be a part of your journey. Here's to more rallies, more rares, and more unforgettable moments.

Yonaka Eats Under $20 author: @eatsfromYVR

A roundup of delicious + cheap Metro Vancouver eats under $20.

JIMOCO CAFE & PASTA

This Coquitlam spot known for their hearty Korean Italian fusion pastas may be a neighbourhood classic over a decade old, but it was my first time here. The main draw- delicious fusion pastas, with only 1 menu item over $20!

My friend and I opted for the Beef Rose and Truffle Oil Cream pastas, and a Margherita pizza. While the pizza was nothing to write home about, the pastas were both excellent. The Beef Rose with a little spicy and very hearty with that fusion flavor, while the Truffle Oil Cream was well, a truffle and mushroom lover's dream with a rich creamy white sauce.

Disclaimer: While this was a sponsored meal, opinions are entirely my own.

KIOKU KITCHEN

A charming Japanese fusion restaurant with only a single menu item over $20? In this economy? Absolutely. I went to check out Kioku Kitchen in New West, and this is one of the few times the IG hype wasn't wrong. The portions were generous and we ordered way more than enough for two people.

With skillfully seared aburi, overflowing inari pockets and a massive salmon ochazuke, we'd say this place is well worth the drive. The Popcorn Prawn Fry appetizer was nothing to sneeze at either.

Locals Winner Decklist

Pokemon Locals Linda - Tinkaton EX

Keycards: Tinkaton ex, Arceus Vstar, Jacq

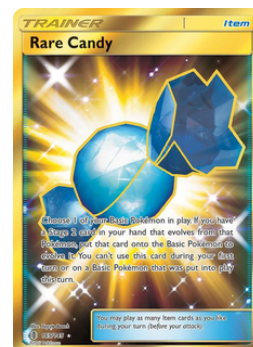

How to play:

Your main attacker is Tinkaton ex with its attack, Big Hammer, that does 30 damage for each card in your hand. This lets you play many draw cards like Nemonia, Roark, Norman, and even Tinkaton.

Setting up:

You mainly want to play Mimikyu as your starting active Pokemon to set up your Tinkatink and evolve it to Tinkaton ex using Rare Candies on your bench and draw many cards to max out Tinkaton ex's damage. Use Arceus Vstar to get any two cards depending on the situation

Strengths:

This deck has no damage cap and can consistently 1KO big Pokemon as long as you have enough cards in your hand

Weakness:

This deck suffers from Iono, as it resets your hand down to how many prize cards you have remaining

Decklist:

Pokemon

4x Tinkatink
4x Tinkatuff
3x Tinkaton ex
2x Tinkaton
4x Mimikyu

The Trading Gallery: What's Ahead Next Quarter?

We're proud to share that we've successfully met key milestones last quarter and upheld a strong promise-to-performance track record. As we move into this new quarter, our goal is simple: continue to build on that momentum and level up across every area of The Trading Gallery (TTG).

Main TCG Focus: Weiss Schwarz

While we continue to nurture and grow our beloved Yu-Gi-Oh! community, both founders have announced that Weiss Schwarz will take the spotlight as TTG's main TCG focus this quarter.

So, what does this mean?

- More Events: Expect both official and unofficial Weiss Schwarz events, including Box Events and Trial Deck Drafts —on top of our regular weekly locals.
- Community Growth: These events are designed not only to support our current community but to bring in and excite new players.
- Expanded Content: We've welcomed new streamer PYO and influencer Kana to the team, and Weiss-focused content has been in full production behind the scenes. We're committed to pushing Weiss Schwarz to new heights.

Additionally, Kris will be heading to Japan this quarter to strengthen TTG's ties with Bushiroad and bring in more exclusive Japanese Weiss Schwarz products and accessories. Yu-Gi-Oh!

We've expanded to four weekly locals (3 Modern, 1 Edison) and partnered with LET's (Lamberts Edison Tournament x TTG) to introduce a monthly Edison tournament, bringing our total Yu-Gi-Oh! events to 15 tournaments each month. We're also excited to introduce Remote Dueling later this quarter, offering even more ways for the community to connect and compete.

One Piece TCG

We're now running two weekly locals and will continue to host pre-release events. Additionally, unofficial Box Events will be rolling out soon to further support and energize the community.

Digital Growth

Our webstore is undergoing exciting developments! This quarter, we're introducing new categories and product lines:

Library

Konbini (Japanese Convenience Store-style Goods)

Boutique

Here's what you can expect to find online:

Manga (Japanese & English)

Official anime prints

Yonaka Gallery x W&S automotive accessories

TTG Apparel & Merch

Bulk Japanese groceries

We're also diving into app development, starting with a multi-TCG life counter app—more details on features and release coming soon!

Content & TTG.TV

Our content game has gone into overdrive across all platforms—and we're just getting started.

Introducing TTG.TV, our official streaming channel featuring:

Anthony, leading with a consistent twice-a-week stream schedule

PYO, who made her debut in March and will be more active this quarter

Dante, our newest face, who joined in March with a set streaming schedule

From competitive play to lifestyle content, TTG.TV is your window into everything happening at The Trading Gallery.

Looking Ahead

This quarter is shaping up to be one of our biggest yet. With new games, events, content, products, and digital tools on the way, we're more excited than ever to grow with our community.

Stay connected. Stay trading.

OUR VOTED BEST CRUISES

The Best Places to Drive and Cruise in Beautiful British Columbia

British Columbia isn't just a province—it's a driver's playground. From winding mountain roads to coastal highways and hidden backroads, B.C. offers some of the most stunning drives in Canada (if not the world). Whether you're rolling deep with your crew or just looking for a solo sunset cruise, here are the best places to hit the road and let your ride shine.

1. Sea-to-Sky Highway (Highway 99)

📍 Vancouver → Squamish → Whistler

Why we love it: This is the crown jewel of B.C. drives. With ocean views, cliffside curves, and mountain vistas, the Sea-to-Sky is a dream cruise with the windows down and the music up. Stop off in Squamish for a coffee, then keep pushing to Whistler for a chill afternoon.

🔥 Pro Tip: Best at sunset or early morning to avoid traffic. And yes, your car will get photographed.

2. Cypress Bowl Road

📍 West Vancouver

Why we love it: Short but sweet. A go-to late night spot for locals, this road leads up to Cypress Mountain with tons of sharp turns and a solid elevation climb. At the top? A panoramic view of the city that never gets old.

🔥 Pro Tip: Perfect for testing your car's cornering in a safe, responsible way. Just watch for cyclists during the day.

3. Marine Drive (West Vancouver to Horseshoe Bay)

📍 Scenic Detour Parallel to Highway 1

Why we love it: It's a winding coastal cruise through wealthy neighborhoods, forested stretches, and glimpses of the ocean. Ends in Horseshoe Bay, where you can grab food and hang out by the water.

🔥 Pro Tip: Ideal for a calm cruise with a date or as part of a group meet-up before heading out to a bigger drive.

Whether you're driving a slammed JDM ride, a clean euro build, or just your daily whip with the vibes right—B.C. has something for every kind of driver. It's not just about the destination, but the road, the views, and the people you share it with.

So clean up the ride, grab some snacks, and plan that next cruise. You're in one of the most beautiful places on Earth—drive like it.

HOLOLIVE SHUFFLES THE DECK: THE OFFICIAL CARD GAME GOES GLOBAL

THE IDOLS ARE READY. THE STAGE IS SET. THE CARDS ARE IN YOUR HANDS.

Hololive Production has already conquered the virtual streaming world with its beloved ensemble of talents. Now, they're taking over your tabletop. First launched in Japan in late 2024, the hololive OFFICIAL CARD GAME was an instant hit—combining high-energy idol fandom with a strategic, collectible twist. But now, Cover Corporation is bringing that same magic to global fans with an English edition set to debut in 2025. Whether you're a longtime Hololive supporter or a trading card game veteran looking for something fresh, the message is loud and clear: it's time to take your oshi to the next level.

BUILT BY FANS, FOR FANS—AND FOR SERIOUS COMPETITION

What makes the hololive OFFICIAL CARD GAME stand out in a crowded TCG market? For starters, it wasn't outsourced. This isn't just a branding deal—it's a passion project. The game was developed entirely in-house by Cover Corporation, ensuring it captures the heart and soul of what Hololive is all about. Every card, from stunning main visuals to clever in-jokes and mechanics, reflects that fan-first energy.

To help with logistics, events, and large-scale distribution, Cover tapped Bushiroad Inc.—a powerhouse in the card game world known for Cardfight!! Vanguard and Weiß Schwarz. With Bushiroad's expertise and Cover's creative vision, it's no wonder this collaboration has fans hyped from Tokyo to Toronto.

The English edition, launching later in 2025, won't be a watered-down adaptation. It's a faithful localization of the Japanese original, preserving both gameplay and artwork. The cards will be released through a wide range of channels: local TCG shops, major online retailers, and the official Hololive Production web store.

Want to get involved early? Stay tuned to see our Pre-Orders for the Hololive Official Card Game~!

The hololive OFFICIAL CARD GAME isn't just a fan product—it's a cultural moment. It blends two of Japan's most passionate subcultures—virtual idols and TCGs—into one sleek, shiny, highly collectible package. With an English launch on the horizon and a global fandom more connected than ever, the stage is set for something special.

So pick your talent, shuffle your deck, and get ready to perform.

The world is watching.

Sweet Imports: Meet the Asian Snacks Taking Over The Trading Gallery

In a world of fast bites and on-the-go treats, it takes something truly special to stop you in your tracks—and our snack shelf at The Trading Gallery does exactly that. We're not just about trading cards and collectibles—we're about flavor, fun, and bringing Japan's tastiest treasures right to your hands.

Here's a look at four fan-favorite Asian snacks you'll find in-store right now, and why they're worth the hype.

ShariMoni Gummy: Real Fruit, Real Texture, Real Addictive

If you've ever wished your fruit snacks were more fruit than snack, this is your dream come true. ShariMoni gummies are known for their ultra-realistic taste and satisfyingly chewy texture. With a crisp outer shell and a juicy, jelly-like center, each bite is like popping a fresh grape—but with a candy twist.

Flavor Note: Popular flavors include Shine Muscat and Kyoho grape, both celebrated in Japan for their rich, sweet profiles.

Why it's a hit: ShariMoni captures the natural taste of high-end Japanese grapes, offering a premium gummy experience that's as close to nature as candy can get.

🍉 Kanro Pure Gummy: Sweet, Sour, and Seriously Satisfying
Kanro's Pure Gummies have become a cult favorite around the world—and for good reason. These heart-shaped chewy candies are coated in a tangy-sour sugar dust and come bursting with juicy fruit flavor. But there's more than taste here—there's mood.

Flavor Vibe: Yuzu, grape, peach, and even seasonal mixes like muscat or cola.

What makes it special: Each gummy has a soft, jelly-like core rich in collagen, giving it a slightly different chew from Western gummies. Plus, that initial sour zing? Instant serotonin.

🍄 Kinoko no Yama: The Iconic Chocolate Mushroom

Don't let the shape fool you—these little “mushrooms” are one of Japan's most iconic and beloved confections. Each Kinoko no Yama snack features a crispy biscuit stem topped with a dome of melt-in-your-mouth milk chocolate.

Snack Personality: Crunchy, chocolatey, and just the right size for guilt-free grazing.

Fun Fact: “Kinoko no Yama” literally means “Mushroom Mountain”—and yes, there's a friendly rivalry with its sister snack, Takenoko no Sato (bamboo shoot-shaped cookies). Are you Team Mushroom or Team Bamboo?

📦 Puccho: The Chewy Candy with a Surprise Inside
Puccho is where chewy candy gets weird—in the best way. Each piece is a flavor bomb that combines a creamy base with tiny flavor or fizzy pockets (sometimes literal gummies or soda bubbles) embedded inside. It's chewy, tangy, soft, and fizzy all at once.

Flavor Adventure: Soda (Ramune), cola, grape, melon, yogurt, and more—with some limited editions featuring real fruit bits or Japanese soda fizz.

Why you need it: It's the only candy that feels like a soft drink, a fruit chew, and a gum drop all rolled into one. Plus, many Puccho packs come with collectible characters or themed packaging!

Where Candy Meets Culture

At The Trading Gallery, we believe snacks are just as collectible as cards—and way more delicious. These aren't just treats; they're tiny cultural ambassadors from Japan, each one offering a unique texture, taste, or surprise you won't find in typical Western sweets.

So next time you're browsing booster packs or admiring your latest pull, don't forget to swing by the snack section. Your taste buds deserve a rare hit too.
